E.M.P.H. IN EMERGENCY & DISASTER MANAGEMENT

A ONE-YEAR INTENSIVE MASTER'S PROGRAM TAUGHT IN ENGLISH TO FOSTER EXPERTISE IN MANAGING DISASTERS

DEVELOPING WORLD LEADERS IN EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Over the past few decades, the world has dealt with an increasing number of natural disasters alongside significant human crises stemming from terrorism and industrial accidents. In order to efficiently overcome these challenges, the world needs leaders in emergency and disaster management who can direct multi-level organizational systems in coordinating their efforts with international aid agencies. This unique multidisciplinary master's program takes advantage of Israel's international leadership position in disaster management to foster future leaders in this vitally important field.

ACADEMIC FOCUS

- Interdisciplinary academic orientation provides extensive background knowledge and research skills
- Topics covered include: crisis management, epidemiology, medical management, and statistics
- Skills developed in capacity building, management, organization, and situation evaluation
- Focus on navigating the complexities of communication and collaboration between the various organizations tasked with managing disasters

CAREER PROSPECTS

In recent years there has been a major increase in demand for qualified professionals in emergency and disaster management in various international aid organizations, the United Nations, hospitals, and humanitarian organizations. Our alumni hold positions around the globe in international security organizations, emergency management departments, NGOs, and more.

PROGRAM FEATURES

- Develop new and critical ways of thinking in order to deal with emergency and disaster situations
- Put theory into practice with site visits to Israeli emergency agencies, drills, and guest lectures from leading experts in the field
- Elite, international student body builds your network within this specialized, in-demand field

"I benefited from the opportunity to see the Israeli approach toward a disaster event. The great guest lecturers represented different disciplines and equipped us with ideas and tools for our future career. I also had a wonderful time visiting other parts of the country and making friends from around the world."
